Equipment Delay Postpones Opening

High School Classes Will Begin on Sept. 8

Because much of the new high school equipment is coming in late, senior high school classes will not begin as soon as the other schools.

Beman G. Ludwig, principal, said today.

Sept. 8 at 8:45 a. m. has been tentatively set for regular classes to begin. A more definite announcement will be made later, Mr. Ludwig said.

All elementary buildings and the junior high school will open on Sept. 4.

In order to help students learn about the new senior high school, a student council committee is helping plan a series of information meetings before the opening of school.

Classes are requested to report to the cafeteria in the new school building.

Seniors, Thursday, Sept. 4, 10:30 a. m.; juniors, Thursday, Sept. 4, 1:30 p. m. and sophomores and those second year students who have less than four credits plus

Zoning Ordinance Now In Final Form

Construction of gasoline service stations in residential sections of the city will not be permitted, City Council decided at a committee-of-the-whole meeting Monday night at City Hall.

Councilmen agreed to restrict the gasoline stations to industrial, transitional, heavy commercial, and general business zones.

About 40 disturbed citizens attended Council's regular meeting last Tuesday to voice protests against a motion to allow new gasoline stations to be constructed along through highways in general residential districts as outlined in Salem's proposed zoning ordinance.

Council took no action at the meeting and tabled the motion until next Tuesday.

Quaker Band Fund $400 Short of Goal

Only $400 more is needed to attain the goal of $5,000 required to finance the Quaker City Band's trip to the American Legion convention in Chicago, Friday through next Tuesday, Norman Eckfeld, band president, said today.

The local band will defend its title as national champion band Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Eckfeld said contributions may still be sent to the Chamber of Commerce office or to him at the Home Savings & Loan Co.

The band will hold its final two rehearsals tonight and Wednesday night. Concert practices will be held at the basketball court at Centennial Park beginning at 8 and will be followed by drill rehearsals at Reilly Field.

The public is invited to attend. Following tomorrow night's concert practice at the park, the band will march down E. State St. to Reilly Field, Mr. Eckfeld said.

The band president said an advance party of bandsmen and the band's instruments will leave Thursday for Chicago to make preparations for the main body of the band's arrival the following day.

The band will depart for the convention from the American Legion post Friday morning at 8 in a chartered bus. Bandsmen will hold their last rehearsal prior to the competition Saturday morning in Chicago, Mr. Eckfeld said.

Everett Fishel Renamed ASC Head

LISBON — Everett Fishel of East Rochester was re-elected as chairman of Columbiana County's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, at a county convention Monday in Lisbon Village Hall.

Other members of the committee are Clifford Shaw and Gale Bowman, both of RD 4, Lisbon, who were re-elected vice chairman and third member respectively, and Carl Daiger, RD 3, Lisbon, and Frank Woodrow, RD 1, Wellsville, first and second alternates.

A representative from each of the county's 15 community ASC committees attended the convention.

The county committee has offices in the Farmers National Bank building here and administers government programs including agricultural conservation, price supports, soil bank, acreage allotments, marketing quotas and wool.

Senate Group Reopens Probe Of Teamsters

'Goon Squads,' Misuse of Funds Targets of Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Senate committee returned to its probe of the Teamsters Union today as a dispute shaped up between the other groups appointed to check on alleged corruption in the big truck union.

In advance of the Senate hearing, Rackets Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said this phase of the probe would center on what he called goon squad violence, misuse of funds and abuse of power in St. Louis area Teamsters affairs bossed by Harold Gibbons.

Gibbons, executive vice president of the Teamsters Union, holds top command of its operations in the St. Louis region. He also is top lieutenant to Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

Three-Man Board Meanwhile, one member of a three-man monitors board, appointed by a federal court here to keep tabs on the Teamsters, described as "an outrageous thing" Hoffa's creation of a separate commission to investigate corruption charges against his union.

Godfrey P. Schmidt said in New York that "Hoffa can now say the monitors are no longer necessary because the union has got its own watchdogs. This is a typical piece of complicated Hoffa conspiracy."

Schmidt said the monitors have been in the hands of several other prospective applicants and these are expected for processing soon.

The authorizations bring to 32 the total number of students who are being or have been aided by the association. Of this total, seven have completely repaid their loans and several others are near that goal.

The present total of loans outstanding is $12,405. Of this amount, approximately half is in the hands of graduates who are expected to make regular payments toward complete repayment of their loans.

Mauro also disclosed that the financial condition of the association at this time forced the trustees to reduce the amounts of the newly authorized loans from an applied for figure of $5,700 to a figure of $4,400. Of this amount only approximately half is authorized for immediate use, or for the first part of the coming school term.

This condition is caused by the inability of many students to obtain work during the past summer and also by the increasing cost of education. The trustees felt that until such time as the fund

Scholarship Group Helps 8 Students

Eight area college students were granted financial aid toward completion of their formal education at a recent meeting of the trustees of the Salem Community Scholarship Association, according to Guy J. Mauro, president.

Three of these students are Salem residents, four are from surrounding rural areas and one is a Goshen area resident.

Courses being pursued by the group include art, chemistry, engineering, music education, journalism, and medicine.

In addition, application forms are in the hands of several other prospective applicants and these are expected for processing soon.

Reds Step Up Shelling After One-Day Slack

3rd Marine Division, 7th Fleet Readied By United States

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—The Chinese Communists bombed Quemoy in furious bursts for the fourth straight day today, again increasing the volume of shells poured into the little Chinese Nationalist outpost island.

The bombardment which some officials feared was a prelude to invasion of the Nationalist offshore islands, began with about 80,000 shells over the weekend but subsided Monday to some 2,900 shots. Today the Reds stepped up the tempo again.

In three rounds of shelling from the nearby mainland beginning shortly after midnight, the Communists hit Quemoy and the islands about 930 times, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said. Then in 2 hours and 40 minutes of early afternoon some 5,500 shells crashed down on the heavily fortified islands.

With the U. S. 7th Fleet already on the alert, a landing force of 1,600 men from the 3rd Marine Division was ordered to sail from Singapore. The destination of the four attack transports and four accompanying ships was not disclosed, but it was assumed they were moving closer to Formosa.

The 7th Fleet is pledged to protect Formosa but not necessarily Quemoy or the offshore islands. Officials in Washington said close watch was being kept on the setup in the Communist attack.

Maj. Gen. Thomas F. Moorman, commander of the U. S. 13th Air Force based in the Philippines, visited Formosa for talks with top Nationalist and U. S. military assistance officials.

Nationalist authorities were paying increasing attention to the possibility that the Communists would try to seize Tungting Island.

Grain Handlers End Strike In Duluth

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Grain funneled back into lakehead elevators today after settlement of a grain handlers' strike which brought shipments into and out of the Duluth-Superior ports to a standstill for five days.

Under a new contract accepted by grain handlers in the two cities, wages will go up 13 cents hourly, retroactive to July 1, with another 3 cents being added Oct. 1. Included were fringe benefits amounting to 2 1/2 cents hourly, plus four-week vacations for those with 20 years' service. The wage scale had been $2.07-2.47 hourly.

More than 2,000 loaded grain cars were backed up at the 12 elevators in the area when the men walked off their jobs. Railroadmen ordered an embargo, which was lifted as the new pact was announced.

Judge Rules for Petitioners

LISBON — Hillcrest petitioners for release from the Columbiana County school system to join the Wellsville city schools are nearer their goal today.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard this morning denied the County Board of Education's motion for a new trial in the Hillcrest case.

The Paul Talbot (Hillcrest) petition was declared null and void by the county board last Nov. 26 on the strength of a counter petition filed by opponents.

Talbot's group filed and won a mandamus action in March when Judge Buzzard ruled the county board took conditional but not final action on rejection.

The judge's ruling left the board with two choices — grant the request or send it to the State Board of Education for decision.

However, the board chose to ask for a new trial on grounds of "newly-discovered" evidence — a section of board minutes at a subsequent meeting.

In denying the motion today, Judge Buzzard said the "newly-discovered" evidence was available at the time of the original trial.

Quaker City Foundry Modernizes Its Shop

The Quaker City Foundry at 310 Euclid St. is in the midst of a complete plant modernization as the result of a refinancing and a reorganization which was announced jointly today by George W. Baillie, Sr., president and general manager, and the Chamber of Commerce.

The reorganization follows the retirement last May of A. R. Silver.

Mr. Baillie, associated with the firm since 1930, has been elected president and general manager, and Miss Jeanette E. Hoch has been named secretary-treasurer.

By increasing the capital structure of the company, the foundry is now in the midst of a modernization program. A new cleaning room and new equipment has been installed and is now in use, allowing for more efficient processing of castings.

Cooler Weather In Several Months Dominating Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The coolest weather in several months dominated Ohio this morning.

Temperatures at sunrise were in the low 40s in the northern part of the state with Youngstown dropping to 42, Cleveland and Columbus had 48 and Zanesville 45. Along the Ohio River it was warmer. Cincinnati reporting 52 and Chesapeake 56. Skies were fair but heavy fog was reported early in the morning at Bellaire.

Although some cloudiness is expected today and tonight, mostly fair weather is the outlook, the weatherman says. Cool temperatures will continue through Wednesday with afternoon highs mostly in the low 70s, he predicts.

ADMITTS EMBEZZLING

CLEVELAND (AP)—Kenneth A. Faul, 46, sales manager for Three Bears Super Stores, Inc., surrendered to police Monday and admitted embezzling $3,200 from the store July 7. Faul said he spent all but $100 of the money, but "most of the money I spent I couldn't enjoy" because of what people would say "if they knew what I had done."

In Monday's inaugural, Royal Flash, owned by Detroit sportsman Rene Ministrelli and driven by Claude Wright of Greenville, won the featured $20,750 Ohio State Trot for two-year-olds. Royal Flash took the final and deciding heat in 2:11 4-5, winning by a nose over Hoot N' Toot.

Attendance continues to lag behind last year's figures. Despite sunny skies Monday, the total had reached only 20,916 by mid-afternoon and was expected to remain below the 33,040 figure for the same day last year.

There were hopes that the Grandstand show, principal entertainment at the fair, could be moved back outside to the big arena after heavy rains Sunday forced a two-day stand in the smaller Youth Center.

But misfortune continues to plague the big show. Singer Dean Martin, billed as the headliner today, Wednesday and Thursday, was shaken up in an auto mishap in California Sunday night and will not be able to appear today. Fair officials said it was uncertain whether he will appear Wednesday and Thursday.

In livestock judging, James Heffner of Rt. 2, Lafayette, showed the grand champion yearling ewe, the reserve champion ram and won the coveted breeders trophy in the National Suffolk Sheep Show.

A yearling ram shown by Freedom Acres Farm, Bucyrus, won the grand championship in its class.

Lee's Hill Red Breast I, owned by Lee's Hill Farm, New Vernon, N.J., won the All American Swiss Futurity.

Death For Cattle Lurks In Ohio's Broad Pasturelands

WOOSTER — Beauty and agonizing death walk hand in hand in many of Ohio's meadows and pasturelands.

Innocent looking as they are, many wild and some cultivated plants are little private laboratories concocting poisonous juices fit to kill.

Take, for instance, Ohio's proud, symmetrical state tree — the Buckeye. Its sprouts and nuts can kill — at least sicken — a cow feeding on them. This is the word of warning from H. A. Runnels, botanist at the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station.

Although Mr. Runnels says there are 50 or more Ohio plants potentially poisonous to livestock, only 10 or 12 are of much consequence. Spotted water hemlock is one of the worst offenders. It is an inhabitant of wet pastures and is sometimes eaten by cattle with devastating effects.

CASES of cattle poisoning from white snakeroot are not as common now, says Mr. Runnels. This is because fewer farmers today turn their cows out to graze in woodland, the favored haunt of snakeroot.

Most farmers are aware of the danger of allowing cows to nibble on wild cherry leaves that have wilted. When a cherry tree is standing its leaves are harmless; but when the tree is chopped or blown down, deadly hydrocyanic acid is synthesized in the leaves.

Cocklebur sprouts also rank high as livestock poisons, although this plant is most dangerous to swine. Other poisonous plants are staggerweeds, Jimson weed, black nightshade and black locust.

Surprisingly, some plants that grace Ohio flower gardens and lawns contain poisons, too. Among these are yew, lily-of-the-valley, Star-of-Bethlehem, boxwood and a matrimony-vine.

"THE MAJORITY of cases of plant poisoning occur either in early spring before the usual forage plants are available in quantity or in summer and fall months when long dry spells have caused forage plants to become dry and unpalatable," Mr. Runnels says. Here are some tips to keep in mind when inspecting an area for poisonous plants:

First, look for areas where unfamiliar plants have been browsed. Inspect the margins of the pasture area, such as fence rows. In such locations, wild plants can more readily persist. Roadsides should be included if the animals have broken out of pasture.

Moist areas along streams merit special attention along with wooded pastures and woodlands. Don't neglect the home premises. Any browsed cultivated plants should be regarded with suspicion.

Many cattle are also poisoned by licking paint, eating forage which has been sprayed with weed killer or other chemicals or by chewing on discarded flashlight batteries.

Three ways to get your husband to help with the housework

Ask the man in your life to help with the dinner dishes. Chances are he'll decline with thanks. But he may suggest that an electric dishwasher will do the job easier and better for only a few pennies a day.

Try to get your husband to hang out the wet clothes. Of course, he'll find some way to get out of it—maybe by reminding you that low-price electricity can dry your clothes the work-free, all-weather way.

When your man's about to settle into a chair after dinner, ask him to take out the garbage. The odds are against his forsaking his chair. But he may say that electricity is so cheap you should let an electric garbage disposer do it.

Can you imagine what an ordeal housework would be without the help of husbands—and low-price electricity?

World Difficulties Spur Inflation

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE
(NEA Staff Writer)

"You've said nothing about the Mideast crisis," several readers have written. They've asked: "Can you tell us what the unrest means to us?"

There is a double-barreled answer for this one.

Politically speaking, it means that we are living on the edge of a precipice.

Any false step will bring us just that much closer, if not to a shooting war, toward living in a nation closely resembling an armed camp. This could result in spurring the need for a larger military force. It could result in the rationing of strategic materials. It certainly highlights the need for a better civil defense program at the grass roots level.

Economically speaking, unrest in the Mideast means inflation in the U.S.

IT MEANS the cost of many goods and services are going up, up, up, won't make your day-to-day living any easier.

On this score we've sounded off on numerous occasions.

Remember, not so long ago we pleaded with you to hold the price line by not asking the boss for a raise unless you really offered a great deal more productivity. Yet, where there have been union bargaining settlements this year, increases won't have averaged 8 to 10 cents an hour. Higher wages are a prelude to inflated prices.

As a result of the Middle East crisis, the government will have to spend more — not less for defense. Already there is a large budget deficit. The national debt ceiling is being raised again and a further increase appears to be a distinct possibility.

To meet its mounting debt — and we've explained this one before — the government must sell notes and bonds. This increases the money supply. Coming on top of the Federal Reserve Board's relaxed credit policies of the past nine months, this increase in the money supply is another certain sign of higher prices.

FORTUNATELY, the President and the Federal Reserve are aware of these threats to your pocketbook. This is why Mrs. Eisenhower vetoed the general appropriation bill. This is why the Federal Reserve raised the margin requirements for buyers of stocks.

The next step could be up to you.

The business community is betting that you are going to stock up on the items you've neglected to buy to these many months — new cars and other consumer durables. They are beginning to rebuild their inventories.

By all means, buy what you need and can afford. But if you go all-out on a buying spree this fall, be ready to face the music.

Judge graduated from David Anderson High School at Lisbon. He entered the Academy on a Congressional appointment, and was sworn in as midshipman June 30. Members of the "plebe" class are scheduled to be graduated in 1962.

WHERE YOUR CANCER DOLLAR GOES

EVERY CENT HELPED—The American Cancer Society reports that in fiscal 1957, it took in 33 million dollars and spent 31.6 million. (The extra 1.4 million was added to the Society's "kitty" balance.) How contributors' individual dollars were used on the medical battlefield is shown above. The 1957 Cancer Crusade brought in 29.6 million dollars from the public, the remainder coming from legacies, endowments and other sources.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
(Written for NEA Service)

Soap is available in a variety of colors, shapes, sizes and brand names. Some people prefer one brand instead of another. Yet most all soap when mixed with water loosens the dirt which seems to be firmly attached to the skin. With a little rubbing and a thorough rinse the soil is removed from the hands or face or other portions of the body.

Mothers frequently find that soap and water do not clean young hands. The principal reason for this phenomenon is that the hands, soap and water do not come into close enough proximity. Even the best soap will not clean if it is not used.

It is strange that we recognize the need for the soap and water to be used together on the hands to produce the desired results, and then we turn around and expect God to forgive our sins when we stay far away from Him. We must bring our sins to God, confess them and seek forgiveness before we can expect to be clean from the soil of human weakness. We must bring ourselves near to God if we desire His touch.

Salem Needs Good Highways

Even if state highway department officials knew it, any announcement at the recent River-Lake highway meeting concerning the relocation of U. S. Route 62 in this section of the state probably would have been out of order.

The session had been called for the purpose of hearing State Highway Director Charles M. Noble pinpoint the location of the Ashtabula to East Liverpool freeway which will cut through Columbiana County about eight miles east of here.

No mention was made of Route 62, on which an engineering firm presently is at work to chart a new course from inside Stark County and eastward in this direction for a possible tie-in with the River-Lake road.

Needless to say, it will be of extreme benefit to Salem to have Route 62 close at hand and local officials should maintain a close liaison with highway department Division offices at Ravenna and New Philadelphia lest the die be cast for a relocation that would remove 62 so far away from Salem that its usefulness to the city would be lost.

If Route 62 skirts Salem just to the north, our community stands to benefit in the promising years that lie ahead. Any alternate proposal would be a blow to the city.

As Salem continues to grow and its suburban areas expand, the need of adequate, modern highways will be felt more than ever.

A joint endorsement at this time by the city administration, Chamber of Commerce, Area Development Council and Manufacturers Association to the Highway Department concerning our recommendation for Route 62 might be a timely show of unanimity and an expression of interest in helping Ohio build better roads.

Rock Candy Mountain A Mirage

Despite all money manipulation and fiscal rules and regulations, inflation is first of all a state of mind, which is either stimulated or repressed by agencies like the Federal Reserve Board and the U. S. Treasury. But they neither create it nor destroy it.

It is a state of mind in Washington and in the market place. It was a state of mind during the shakiest period of the recession, when people were urged to believe what they wanted to believe—that the rock Candy Mountain was real and would reappear when the clouds blew away.

Americans have been spellbound by the Rock Candy Mountain since the '20s. They have tried to get closer to it by running faster and faster, only to learn they scarcely were able to stay where they were when they began to run.

They believe if they could get there, their problems would be solved. Wages would go up every pay day, while time installments were going down. Everything they owned with permanent usefulness would retain its original value; there would be no depreciation.

The work week would get shorter and the list of fringe benefits would grow longer, and this would be fully automatic, like the newest machines. Automobiles bought on bright prospects of long-term earning power and no layoffs would run indefinitely. Savers would be no better than hoarders in wartime. There would be meat on the table every night, chicken on Sunday and fudge for the asking.

LIFE WOULD BE worth living all the time on the Rock Candy Mountain. There would be security. All risks would be pooled. A tough break would be something that happened to the other fellow.

In Washington, where the Rock Candy Mountain always looks 10 times as high, bemused public officials could believe a debt of a couple hundred billion that was still growing could be shrugged off as a trifle. Public officials could see nothing incongruous about asking for billions more to underwrite woolly-minded notions about what Washington needed to do to keep up with hard-working Russians.

THERE USED TO BE a word "prudence" in the language, meaning "ability to regulate and discipline oneself through the exercise of the reason." It referred in a special sense to sagacity in the handling of resources.

The word was held in such high regard by people who practiced it that they named girl babies Prudence—and it seemed like a good idea to one and all.

There was a Rock Candy Mountain then, too, but people knew it was a mirage. They felt sorry for their deluded brothers and sisters who tried to get close to something that didn't exist. If they got violent about their desire to leave reality behind and go to live on the Rock Candy Mountain, they might have to be committed to mental institutions.

If as few as one out of three Americans today would turn his back on the Rock-Candy-Mountain mirage, money manipulations and fiscal rules and regulations being limbered up to curb inflation wouldn't be needed. Inflation is first of all a state of mind, before it becomes a state of economics. It is the mirage of a Rock Candy Mountain that can be eaten endlessly and will never need to be replaced.

Money Alone Isn't Going To Get That Thing Launched

Arab Peace Plan

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—They all got their necks out of the wringer — the West, the Soviet Union and the Arabs — when the United Nations Thursday night approved 80-0 the Arabs' plan for peace in the Middle East.

They voted themselves a graceful way out of an embarrassing situation. The only question left is: Will the plan work? Or does it just provide a calm before a new storm breaks in the Middle East?

The plan, which the United States also approved, did not contain specifically a single one of the six proposals President Eisenhower made to the U.N. earlier this month to bring peace to the Middle East.

But at least he can feel some of his suggestions are in the plan, if only in a general way. In the end, although the plan is an easy way out for everyone, it may result in loss of the West's last, lingering grip on the area.

The Arabs — humiliated and angered by the presence of American troops in Lebanon and British forces in Jordan — can now claim credit for getting them out by the ingenuity of their plan. The Soviet Union wanted the troops out. And now they seem sure to go.

And it gets the United States and Britain off a hot spot. Even though invited in by Lebanon's President Chamoun and Jordan's King Hussein — they've shown signs of wanting out ever since they saw the world's bad reaction to what they did.

But there's no evidence anything in the Middle East has been solved or settled except for paving the way for American-British withdrawal. The Arab plan, or resolution, left it up to Secretary General Hammarskjöld to arrange the withdrawal.

Secretary of State Dulles, seldom sunny about the Middle East, warned it would be folly to think the simple resolution by itself solved Middle East problems. For example:

Hussein asked for the British troops to save him from overthrow. It's been reported that once the British left he'd be assassinated or expelled. How does the Arab plan protect him if the British go? It doesn't say. Yet he approved it.

Eisenhower proposed a U. N. police force in Lebanon and Jordan to keep peace. The Arab plan says nothing about such an outside force. That seems to leave the door open for all the shenanigans to start as soon as the Americans and British leave.

True, the Resolution says the Arabs renew an old pledge. But they forgot about the pledge before and that's what caused the trouble this time. No reason to think they won't forget again.

For example: What reason is there to think United Arab Republic President Nasser, trying to bring the whole Arab world under his wing in one way or another, will stop his intrigue. To think he will sounds like a fairy tale.

But if the Americans and British withdraw — and after the present mess they'll be reluctant about going into the Middle East again — Nasser ought to have the field pretty much to himself.

And since the Soviets want Western influence in the area eliminated, the Arab resolution must taste like duck soup to them.

The resolution also called on Hammarskjöld to try to work out with the Arabs some plan for a redevelopment institution. Eisenhower had proposed such an organization, to be run by Arabs.

It will take a lot of time to work out anything like that.

Congress' Failures

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Group Failed to Curb Communist Infiltration

The 85th Congress, just adjourned, has by its inaction and failure to deal with vitally needed legislation turned out to be the worst in a half century.

For the Congress has not passed any of the proposed laws to curb Communist infiltration in the United States during the cold war crisis.

It has not passed any laws to stop racketeering and gangsterism by a minority of powerful labor unions.

It has not passed any laws to help the State Department to withhold passports hereafter from American citizens who are part of the Communist espionage apparatus and who can sabotage the policies of the United States while travelling abroad.

It has not passed any laws to stop the Supreme Court from ignoring states' rights, a practice severely condemned in a report approved last week by the chief justices of 6 states — three quarters of the states of the Union — based on the same facts that were available to the committees of Congress for the past year.

It has not passed any laws to curb labor union monopolies which, by industrywide bargaining and coercive methods, virtually fix prices and keep the cost of living up so that the purchasing power of the dollar is constantly forced down.

There now will be plenty of partisan speeches boasting of how the 85th Congress has passed lots of legislation on a wide variety of subjects. But these bills were of financial benefit largely to special voting groups and, while some of the measures were meritorious, they do not by any means offset the major failures.

What really happened behind closed doors in this Congress is a big news story. Will the people ever get it?

There has been much comment in the press in recent months about the "right to know" as various members of Congress have piously proclaimed that they favor the idea. But ironically the American people have gotten far less information this year than ever before about the vote — trading, the logrolling and the juggling that went on behind the scenes in both houses of Congress.

The large newspapers and news associations maintain staff reporters to watch what's happening all day every day on Capitol Hill.

This correspondent has just obtained a copy of a memorandum written by one of those reporters. Long identified with a big city newspaper, the veteran reporter of many Congresses writes:

"THIS HAS BEEN an incredibly spendthrift Congress.

"It has also refused to face up to the Communist menace to American institutions.

"The Democratic leaders in the Senate have been caught redhanded in an alliance with the powerful and monopolistic labor unions, with the apparent aim of winning the labor vote at the polls.

"The Congress, especially in the Senate, has been turned into a vote-trading operation. Legislative juggling has managed to kill important bills by delaying them to the last minute.

"Spendthrift by this Congress has been fantastic. There has been nothing like it before in peacetime. The effects will be spread out over many, many years.

"Spendthrift started out as a depression cure but soon this was thrown aside and without pretense the Democrats plunged into vast election-year buying of voter groups of all kinds. Many Republicans felt they had to go along or be defeated.

"Hundreds of little projects in almost every area—legislative items never heard of before except locally — all added up to billion-dollar outlays.

"It fairness, it must be said that two Democrats — Sen. Harry Byrd and Rep. Howard Smith of Virginia — protested and did manage to block some of the bills that meant wasteful spending.

"LEGISLATION designed to correct Supreme Court decisions has been shrouded in mystery at this session. It is common gossip around the Senate that Americans for Democratic Action had a group of left wing Democrats in the Senate lined up for weeks ready to pounce on any legislation affecting the Supreme Court.

The same attitude has been manifested toward moves to thwart Communistic activities. Billions of dollars were voted for foreign aid to help fight Communism abroad but subversion and Communist infiltration at home were neglected.

"Organized labor boldly took possession in the Senate of the movement to rewrite the labor laws and managed to insert certain provisions hostile to management, so that finally all the major bills were blocked by both factions — a favorite way to bring about the death of much-wanted legislation in order that responsibility for what happened may not be readily determined. The only labor bill passed was an innocuous measure to require the publication of certain data on employee pension funds.

"It was largely a self-centered Congress, mainly concerned with local projects or the pressure of voting groups and evidently of the belief that the country as a whole would never find out what really happened or which groups or interests or their henchmen were responsible for the debacle."

The New York Herald Tribune

Open Curtain

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans who have been watching their export business fall off sharply this year are eyeing hopefully an opening chink in the Iron Curtain.

But it will be two months before they are told just what new items they may offer for sale to Russia and its satellites.

Their competitors in Western Europe, Canada and Japan meantime will have a long head start. These nations now are freeing 40 per cent of the products formerly embargoed for sale to Eastern Europe and Red China. The latter will still be off limits to American exporters.

The U. S. Commerce Department doubts if lowering the trade barriers a bit more — as provided in the recent Paris agreement with 14 other nations of the NATO coordinating committee on control of East-West trade — will open up much more of a market for U. S. goods in Eastern Europe.

American trade with Eastern Europe is off this year from last year's 10-year high, and it accounts for only one-half of 1 per cent of total U. S. foreign trade.

Washington holds that what the Communist countries want from us mainly is what we still won't want to sell them, come October. That is, products and commodities which we feel could be used for military purposes.

The U. S. now embargoes 922 items for sale to the Reds. It isn't saying yet how many of these will be freed for trade. It is going to add some items because military advances have brought certain chemicals and electronic products into the strategic category. But America plans to drop more items from the list than it adds.

Strict controls were clamped on East-West trade in 1948 as a cold war measure. Last year there was some relaxation of controls.

Figures released this week by Commerce Secretary Weeks show that in the first six months of 1958 licenses to export to the Reds totaled 10 1/2 million dollars. Latest available figures show that imports from Eastern Europe in the first two months of 1958 came to 9 1/2 million.

From Poland and Russia we have been getting hams, bacon, feathers, bristles, undressed furs; from Czechoslovakia semiprecious stones, industrial diamonds, beads and glass; from East Germany fertilizers, cameras and artificial fruits and flowers.

We have been selling the Reds coal mine drill rigs, auto parts, textile machinery parts, tobacco, soybean oil, and phenol.

Russia has had its embargoes against us, too. And what it will let its people buy from us is still pretty much a mystery. The Iron Curtain chink isn't very big yet. But in a slow trade year anything looks good to many foreign traders.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

LONDON — Let's not be too beastly to the Hungarian machine gunners of women and kids — that is, if you don't want to irritate the British government. If you really bear down on the men who are the account executives in charge of the Budapest government for the Russian army, you may keep the British from making a few extra pounds — torn right out of the flesh of the Hungarian workers.

Apparently the British legation in Budapest doesn't take as a personal insult all the unpleasantness which resulted, you know, in the slaughter of Hungarian freedom. The legation of Her Majesty's government in the Hungarian capital has just signed a 35 million dollar trade pact with that Soviet-Communist government.

Ghoulishly enough this pact provides that the British will send Hungary this coming year material which can be converted to war equipment. The British have agreed to send neat packages of chemicals, machinery, vehicles and rubber.

FOR WEEKS NOW, while one section of the Empire's government has been deploring the tragedy which ended in the secret torture and execution of rebel leader Imre Nagy in some Romanian cellar, another office of the British government has had its representatives right in Hungary negotiating a trade deal with the very men whom the world calls murderers.

This Anglo-Hungarian trade pact was signed on July 26 in Budapest. A British diplomat by the name of J. E. Cable, commercial first secretary of the British legation in Budapest, signed for the English. With a handshake, too, no doubt. No worry here, though. The Hungarian commercial representative had no blood on his hands. It had all been washed off.

The Hungarian's name is Bela Szilagyi, one of the chiefs of the Ministry of Foreign Trade. Sort of a neat chap, you know. He promised that Hungary would send the British some 18 million dollars worth of aluminum, cotton textiles, shoes, pharmaceutical products — and, note this, food.

HUNGARIAN WORKERS are existing on the lowest calory content per diem on the Continent. Now whatever chance they had of living by more than bread and potatoes alone is gone. The surplus food will go to the British. But trade is trade.

In turn, the British will send the Soviet Hungarian state corporations — chemicals, textile yarns, vehicles, machines, non ferrous metals and rubber.

But let's not go glowering at the British alone. Apparently American merchants have been negotiating with the Hungarians, too.

You see the Budapest government has promised to send the British some quantities of pharmaceutical stuff which the Hungarians really don't have. So Medunpex, the Hungarian drug enterprise of Budapest, has been negotiating with one of America's biggest drug firms for a million dollars worth of the stuff.

This American outfit would suffer if I listed it here and I don't want to hurt the small stockholders, who have no real say in the management of the corporation.

But, through its Belgian chief, this drug firm has just signed an agreement to ship one million dollars worth of pharmaceuticals to the Hungarian government, which is really made up of several Russian tank divisions.

THUS THE GAULEITERS of Budapest whom the world has been denouncing will get material from the United States to send to London so it can get British material which can fit into its war machine.

This, in turn, can be turned against us as well as the desperate lovers of freedom in Hungary.

Our harried State Department and special agents of Secretary Weeks' U.S. Department of Commerce know of these transactions. At least, it is presumed that they have been informed of what is happening in the tiny diplomatic community in Hungary.

The American drug firm sent its Belgian official into Budapest, to make the deal. Our State Department we have been calling terrorists, tyrannical and murderous. The least we could get is a promise that the American pharmaceuticals will help bind up the wounds of the Hungarian people.

Exhibitors Get Busy At Canfield Fair

Canfield Fairground is a bee-hive of activity as thousands of exhibitors begin to move in with their livestock, poultry, concessions and displays and exhibits of one kind or another. More than $40,000 in premiums await the exhibitors who are showing everything from cakes and cookies to ponies and paintings.

Costly new facilities await the opening of the Mahoning County Fair on Thursday, with two new pony barns, and a poultry house open for the first time this year. The pony show ring, the new buildings and the tents that have sprung up to house the hundreds of ponies, promise to make this the greatest pony show in local fair history.

Some two miles of new roads have been constructed within the fairgrounds itself. The road leading in from the new entrance off Rt. 46 at the south end of the fairgrounds widens to 78 feet at one place.

A renovated Floral Hall is impressive.

New fire lines and general water lines have been installed to provide water for drinking, emergency and general use at strategic points on the grounds.

New benches have been installed about the fairgrounds to relieve the tired and weary who cover the more than 212 acres of land over which the Canfield Fair is spread. All records are expected to be broken this year as Canfield Fair launches its 112th annual showing, with the greatest exhibition of agricultural, mechanical, cultural and entertainment features in the long history of the Fair.

Alaskan Election Starts Today

Statehood, Senate Seats Major Issues

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Alaskans decide today whether the northern territory is to be the 49th state.

The votes were being cast throughout the 586,400-square-mile territory in precincts with such names as Metlakatla and Chilkat, Pelican, Fox, Chicken and Eagle, Badger Road, Lincoln Park, North Pole and Turnagain by the Sea.

When all the votes are counted — and some of them won't be tabulated for a week — Alaskans are expected to have approved admission into the Union by a margin of at least 2-1.

Under terms of the admission act signed in July by President Eisenhower, such a vote will mean that a 49th star will be added to the nation's flag next year.

A presidential proclamation creating the newest and largest state — and the first to be admitted since New Mexico and Arizona entered the Union in 1912 — probably will be issued in late December or early January.

In anticipation of approval of the three statehood referendums, Alaskans also were voting today in a primary election to nominate candidates for the first state offices.

Republican and Democratic candidates for Alaska's first two seats in the U.S. Senate were assured nomination without opposition in the primary.

The two Democratic senatorial hopefuls who have no party contest in the primary are Alaska's long-time nonvoting delegate to Congress, E. L. (Bob) Bartlett of Juneau, and Earnest Gruening of Juneau, former Alaska governor who served 13 years as appointed territorial chief executive.

In a Nov. 25 general election, if statehood is approved, Gruening will oppose Republican Mike Stepovich of Fairbanks, the last appointed governor of Alaska. R.E. Robertson of Juneau, a lawyer, is unopposed for the GOP nomination to face Bartlett in November.

There are also Democratic primary contests for one congressional seat, for the governorship and for secretary of state. Republicans have only one candidate for each of the three posts, and they are assured nomination.

gym, Friday, Sept. 5, 10:30 a.m.

Each student will be given a plan of the building and a sheet on which has been listed the location of the various rooms to which he will need to report, Mr. Ludwig said.

After receiving various items of information about the school organization, a short question and answer period will be held. Students will then be guided to their homerooms and will have an opportunity to look over the building.

In reporting to the building, students should enter through either the main front entrance on 6th St. or the main gym entrance on the north side of the building. Guides will be present to direct students to the cafeteria.

Student Council members helping to plan the meetings are Dick Sandrock, Daniel Krichbaum, David Griffiths, Tom Lease, Louis Slaby, Karen Elliott, and Michele Cope.

Safety Council Predicts 420 Labor Day Deaths

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Safety Council estimates 420 persons may be killed in traffic accidents during the long Labor Day weekend.

That is 70 deaths more than might be expected to occur during a non-holiday period this time of the year.

The council says the toll could be cut if every driver would reduce normal speed by at least 10 m.p.h., concentrate on a safe rather than quick arrival and not drive after drinking.

Four Fined, Forfeit $111 In Mayor's Court

Four persons were fined or forfeited a total of $111 Monday for traffic violations, Mayor Harold D. Smith reported today.

Fined were: Bernard Bloor, 18, of the Tower Road, $20, speeding; Robert Hill, 20, of 409 W. Pershing St., $10, reckless operation; and John R. Yonnoti, 20, of Youngstown, $10, crossing a yellow line.

Forfeiting a $71 bond for a trucking overload was Marvin R. Buckley, 24, of Lisbon.

til last night's committee-of-the-whole meeting.

Several people were present last night who also had attended the Aug. 19 meeting. They represented four streets and adjacent areas of the city which would be affected by the proposal if incorporated in to the zoning law.

The areas are: E. State St. between an alley east of Woodland Ave. between Columbia St. to a Lincoln Ave. between 3rd and 9th Sts.; N. Ellsworth Ave. between 3rd and 8th Sts.; and S. Lincoln Ave. between Columbia St. to a point extending east from Walnut St.

Council President Curtis H. Vaughan reported the zoning ordinance is now in its final form and will be returned to the Michael Baker Co. of Rochester, Pa. for final drafting.

The first reading of the new law is expected at the Sept. 16 meeting.

In other matters at the meeting, Council decided to allow a section in the measure that would permit the construction of neighboring grocery stores in residential areas.

The proposal states that such a store can be built upon permit granted by a zoning board after the need for it is shown.

In a special session prior to the committee-of-the-whole gathering, Council passed a resolution of necessity calling for the repair of E. Pershing St. between S. Lincoln Ave. and S. Lundy Ave. at a cost of $4,899.44.

The project will include the resurfacing and excavation of sewer lines.

The city's share in the expense will be $2,589.73, with property owners being assessed $1.81 per front foot.

Mr. Vaughan said an ordinance to proceed with the repaving is expected to be drafted for Council's next meeting Sept. 2.

Council passed a measure Aug. 19 to proceed with the resurfacing of E. Pershing St. between S. Lincoln Ave. and Ohio Ave. at a cost of $5,112.64, with the city paying $2,529.75 and property owners $1.42 per front foot.

Council also met last night with City Auditor Helen R. Coyne on the city's financial situation.

Mrs. Coyne gave councilmen a rundown of the city's financial condition and what money to expect during the fiscal year.

Little Rock

The key measure prepared for the lawmakers by Gov. Orval Faubus would present him the power to close any school should the federal government seek to integrate it by court order or physical force.

The school would remain closed until voters balloted—within 30 days—on whether to integrate or keep its doors shut.

A third measure would permit a student of a closed school to carry his state aid allotment with him to another district.

Emergency Session
The U. S. Supreme Court on Thursday will hold an emergency session to deal with Little Rock's riot-marked school racial problems.

Under current lower court rulings, the city's schools are under no orders to integrate when the fall term opens. The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People appealed to the high court to override the lower bench rulings which give the school board a breather.

The Supreme Court meeting Thursday — only the fifth such emergency session in 40 years — has widespread implication.

It is expected to provide the first specific ruling by this court on integration methods and timing since it ruled May 17, 1954, that racial segregation in public schools is unconstitutional. A year later it ordered desegregation to proceed "with all deliberate speed."

But never has the court pinpointed a time and method for desegregation of a school.

The rally was preceded by a banquet with the Rev. Harry Marshall of Salem as toastmaster.

The Yearly Meeting officially opened with a prayer service this morning at 8:30.

Main speakers during the six-day session will be the Rev. Robert Hess, home or furlough from the American Friends Mission station in Central India, currently residing in Damascus, and Dr. Walter R. Williams and Dr. Everett L. Cattell, both of Damascus.

U.S. Seeks to Ease Iraqi Restrictions

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States is pressing Iraq's revolutionary government to ease restrictions on American diplomats in Baghdad.

Iraq's attitude on this will be viewed as a clue to the sincerity of its pledge to seek friendly relations with the United States.

Diplomatic officials who reported this said reopening of the U.S. information office, shut down since the revolt exploded six weeks ago, is one of the steps the new regime has been asked to take.

The State Department also is urging Iraq to end half a dozen other annoying restrictions hampering the work of diplomats both in the U. S. Embassy and in American consulates.

These restrictions, officials said are not viewed as a deliberate campaign of harassment at this time. Rather, they are looked on as being the result of confusion and overzealous supervision evident since the July 14 change in government.

The State Department also is unhappy about some bitter anti-American propaganda broadcast by Radio Baghdad. The official Iraq government station has given considerable attention to charges that the United States plotted to stir up revolt in neighboring Syria.

land, 17 miles south of Quemoy. The Defense Ministry said two Red attempts Sunday to land troops on the tiny, rocky island were repulsed by Nationalist warships. Officials suspected, however, that the Communists might not have given up.

Tungting is used by the Nationalists to keep tabs on ships trying to sneak out of Amoy, the Communist port opposite Quemoy, so Nationalist warships can be alerted to intercept them. Its capture would help the Reds evade Nationalist blockades. The island is believed fairly well fortified and garrisoned by the Nationalists.

GRANGES WIN AWARDS

LISBON — West Point Grange won first place among subordinate granges for its display last week at the Columbiana County Fair.

Salem Grange took second, followed by Midway and Willow Grove.

First in juvenile grange exhibits went to Willow Grove, followed by Perry, Unity, Guilford and Midway.

demanding that Hoffa give them a full explanation of all arrangements that went into forming the commission, headed by former Republican Sen. George H. Bender of Ohio.

Protest May Be Made
Furthermore, Schmidt indicated a protest may be made to Federal Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts. Letts earlier this year appointed the monitors to watch over the union operations. He did so in a compromise settlement of a suit by a group of dissident Teamsters members who sought to upset Hoffa's election as Teamsters president.

Bender told a news conference Judge Letts welcomed establishment of the commission which Hoffa announced last Saturday.

He also said he saw no conflict between his commission and the monitors and that he would cooperate with them.

In pledging to conduct a thorough probe of the Teamsters, Bender said he was confident Hoffa will follow any cleanup recommendations the commission will make.

"I agreed to serve only after assurance from Mr. Hoffa and his attorneys that I will have a free hand to act as I see fit," Bender said.

Stepanics Cop Class AA Crown

Mercer Defeats Satch Altomare

Beard, Bozich Each Drive In 2 Tallies

Four runs in the top of the sixth inning lifted Stepanics' Tavern from a 2-1 deficit and gave them in a 5-2 win over Dairy Queen and the City Class AA champion Monday night at Kelly field.

The clubs had battled through regular season play ending in a tie. Last night's contest settled the issue for first place in the 'AA' loop.

Both squads are in the playoffs however. Stepanics will battle Old Dutch tonight at 8 while Dairy Queen goes against Bayard Grange at 9.

The two winners will play Wednesday at 9 for the playoff title.

In three Class A league games last night, Salem Drive-In beat Demings 10-2 but lost to the Christian Church 9-4, while Dutch Beer bombed Demings 13-5.

Glenn Mercer was the winning pitcher for Stepanics setting down Dairy Queen on but four hits. The winners got seven raps off loser Satch Altomare. The losers hurt themselves with four errors.

The victors took a 1-0 lead in the top of the first on Jim "Oscar" Beard's single which scored Herb Reed. Reed had reached second on an error.

Dairy Queen evened the count in their half on Ed Duco's triple and Joe Billet's infield single.

Wayne Hahn's single and a second hit by Duco, a single, provided Dairy Queen with a 2-1 lead after five full innings. Duco's rap assured him of the Class AA batting title.

Stepanics came back with four big runs in their sixth however to overhaul the eventual loser's margin.

Mercer singled and was sacrificed to second. Reed walked. Beard's second single of the evening then scored Mercer and sent Reed to third.

Ed Bozich then blasted a sinking single to right field which scored both Beard and Reed. Bozich went to third on the throw to the infield and then scored on Ed Stefani's single.

That ended all scoring for the game and gave Stepanics' Tavern the city Class AA title.

Ed Hardy had 2-3 for Demings in their 10-2 loss to Drive-In. Jerry Hendricks bested Nelson Melinger on the mound.

Don Brudery homered for the losers.

Bob Capel knocked out a triple and two singles and batted in four tallies as Old Dutch Beer bombed Demings 13-5.

Dick Hahn tripled and doubled for the losers.

Bill Panzotti beat Bloop Rayniak. An 11 - hit attack carried the Christian Church over Drive-In as Bob Sanor led the way with a single and two doubles.

Olan Sanor was the winner and Speedy Walker the loser.

Jack Brudery tripled and singled for the losers while Ray Hiner doubled and had a pair of one-base blows.

State Softball Tournament Proves Colorful Spectacle

By GORDON ARNDT

It was quite an enlightening experience to have attended and played in part of the 1958 Ohio State Men's Softball Championships in Toledo last weekend.

Sixteen teams were entered having begun play last Friday. The title game will be played tonight.

The contests are played at two different parks, Ravine Park and McCarthy Stadium. Both had lights, adequate seating, refreshment stands and a distance of 250 feet to every field.

Pitcher Todd "Ike" McKinney of D&D Grill (Columbus) seemed to warrant more conversation than any other player.

McKinney, who is 37 and has been pitching for 18 years, weighs around 230 and stands 5-10. He had a 19-2 record in season play in the state's capitol but gained more fame from his recent pitching feat in Lorain.

He lost a 19-inning game 3-1 but struck out 47 men including 20 in a row.

His feats include one perfect game in which he whiffed all 21 batters to face him.

McKINNEY has pitched the D&D Grill team to the state championship the past two years. In 1957 they were the Columbus Bats.

McKinney won his first two games 2-0 and 4-0 but lost a 1-0 relief job his third time out.

He stuffed out a rally in the seventh but lost the game in the ninth following a triple and an infield out in the ninth. He lost to George Scott, of the River Oil Co. team (Chillicothe).

Scott fanned 13 men and preserved the record of which his fellow mates have going in the tourney. They haven't been scored on in 23 innings.

GEORGE SMILEY of Wood's Plumbing (Columbus) pitched a no-hitter over Walnut Hills Homes (Mansfield).

Smiley faced but 22 men in seven innings and struck out 17. One walk marred his perfect game.

His change of pace pitch which dropped had Mansfield batters waving in the air.

One universal feature of most of the pitchers was their large size. If it were not 6-2 and 200 pounds, they were 5-10 and past 225.

To say the least, these characteristics are very conducive to speed and "stuff."

The uniforms worn by some of the teams was another impressive factor. The D&D Grill was clad in red, black and white suits and when coupled with a fancy leather warmup jacket created the impression of major league team.

THERE WAS hardly any beefing from the teams about the decisions made by the two umpires who handled each game. The "boys in blue" carried out their tasks in a major league manner. There was no doubt as to whether a pitch was a ball or strike or if a runner was safe or out.

The ump's knew their assignments. No matter at what base a play occurred, one of them was right there either with both hands out sideways or with a big right arm up in the air.

They even dusted off the pitchers' mounds and the bases between innings.

The two new balls used to start each game didn't stay white very long, maybe one inning. After that, the game was played with softballs that looked two-years old.

No one seemed to complain. Apparently the quality of the oval overshadowed any lack of color.

The groundskeepers were a bunch of hustlers. Before each game, they raked around each base, the pitcher's mound and home plate besides relining the basepaths and the batter's boxes.

IT RAINED hard Sunday but three games still went on although set back two hours. The crew got out gasoline and burned up the excess water which had rested on the field. Coupled with a few hundred shovel-fuls of sand and the tourney went on.

The games were not without clearly outlined scoreboards and with a public address system. Each batter was announced and the summary of every game was reported upon its conclusion.

All in all, the spectator was left with very little to imagine. A running chart of all games was kept to show who was going to play who. The PA man helped too as he occasionally told the crowd what team played at what time.

The results each day were found in the Toledo papers. The games warranted but a one-column headline most of the time in comparison with a three or four column head which one would think a state tourney should merit.

AN HOUR and fifteen minutes were set aside for each game but it wasn't enough. A 9:45 Friday game didn't start till around 10:30 p.m.

Teams were not permitted batting practice but were allowed infield and throwing rehearsals.

Some teams had to play twice in one day much to their dislike. There is not much choice when 16 teams are playing a double elimination tourney in five days.

The games between the "good" clubs were marked with the old idea of getting one run and hanging on.

City Playoffs Begin Tonight In Both Loops

City softball playoffs begin tonight in both the Class AA and A leagues.

In Class AA, Old Dutch meets Stepanics' Tavern while Dairy Queen battles Bayard Grange.

In Class A, things were made complicated when three teams tied for fourth place. They were Salona Supply, Old Dutch Beer and the Friends Church. They'll play off to see who joins the Drive-In Theater, B&W Research and Lincoln Machine in the playoffs.

The Class AA finals will come off Wednesday at 9.

The schedules are as follows:

TONIGHT
6, Salona vs Dutch Beer
7, Friends vs Salona-Dutch Beer winner

8, Old Dutch vs Stepanics' Tavern
9, Bayard Grange vs Dairy Queen

WEDNESDAY
6:30, Drive-In vs B&W Research
7:45, Lincoln Machine vs Salona

Dutch Beer-Friends winner
9, Finals of Class AA

Brown Giving Rookies Chance to Make Good
HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—Coach Paul Brown is going to give some of his rookies a good chance to make good.

The coach plans to start four freshmen in Friday night's exhibition against the Los Angeles Rams at the Coliseum.

They are Jim Ninowski at quarterback, Gene Hickerson at guard, Bobby Mitchell at running half-back, and Jim Shofner in the defensive backfield.

Brown also is high on another pair of rookies, defensive end Buzz Guy, and Harry Javernick, an offensive tackle who filled in for the injured Lou Groza in last week's exhibition with Detroit.

Sam Brown, rookie halfback from UCLA, was released Monday, reducing the squad to 45. Two more cuts must be made by the day after Labor Day, but the pair is expected to go before the Browns embark for Los Angeles Wednesday morning.

12 Entered In Salem Youth Tennis Tourney
Six players each were entered in the intermediate and junior division, respectively, of the Salem Youth Tennis Tournament which began this morning at Centennial Park.

The meet is being sponsored by the Jaycees and the Park Commission.

In the intermediate class, Dick Strain played Roland McKenzie while Bob Strain battled Bob King. Dave Hunter and John Strain drew byes.

The championship will be played Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m.

In the junior division, Jerry Kyle met Harry Izenhour while Woody Deitch played Vaughan Harshman. Bill Goodchild and Jim Leiswald drew byes.

The junior title match will be played Wednesday at 1 p. m.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Sihugo Green, former Duquesne star scheduled for discharge from the Army soon, has signed a contract with the pro basketball Cincinnati Royals, along with veteran Dave Piontek and rookie Wayne Embury, former Miami of Ohio standout. Officials said the team has now signed up 14 men.

The club nevertheless entered the games with at least one telegram from a rival Salem "AA" manager who sought the squad good luck with a few words of advice.

Leo Kline lost the first game and Glenn Mercer the second.

Kline was touched for eight hits including two homers. Herrons got four hits including a triple by Sam Pridon, a double by Jim Cosgar and singles by Ed Weber and Kline.

Salem led 1-0 after one frame but trailed 3-1 after three innings. They were never in the contest against Toledo falling behind 3-0 after two innings, 7-0 after three frames, and 13-0 following four in nings.

Toledo got 18 hits including two home runs off Mercer and reliever John Kozar.

Salem got one hit, that by Kline in the seventh inning. Six errors contributed to the locals' defeat.

Players who took part for Herrons were Jerry Jeffries, Cosgarea, Kline, Mercer, Kozar, Pridon, Weber, Ben Roelen, George Alek, Jack Haldeman, Jim Beard, Dean Ray and Bill Crookston.

Dave Briskin was the manager.

BETWEEN THE TACKLES—These giants are a little heavy to play with Bobby Ferguson, 8, as he visits the Cleveland Browns training camp at Hiram, Ohio. Bobby's heavyweight "playmates" are Bob Gain, left, and Lou Groza who weigh in at 259 and 248 respectively.

Midland, Pa., Outfit To Defend Title In Softball Tournament

The Midland, Pa. CIO 1212 softball team will be back to defend their 1957 title when they appear in the Salem Invitational Softball Tournament which begins at Kelly field Thursday night at 7. They play at 9.

Orioles Clip White Sox; Nats Edge Tribe on Courtney's Hits

By The Associated Press
A week ago it figured that the Baltimore Orioles might have a shot at the first division in the American League standings. Now the Birds might even roost in second place.

The Orioles under Manager Paul Richards have won 13 of their last 19 games.

They wrestled Detroit for a share of fourth place by taking two of three from the Tigers. Then they beat Chicago 6-5 Monday night for a sweep of the two-game set with the second place White Sox.

That left the Birds within three games of third place Boston and just four games shy of the White Sox while padding their edge over Detroit to a full game.

Washington defeated Cleveland 5-4 in the only other AL game.

In the National League, Milwaukee stretched its lead to eight games once more as the Braves rapped second place San Francisco 6-1. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 7-1 and Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 4-2.

The Orioles won the hard way Monday night, blowing a 5-1 lead before cracking a 5-all tie on Al P.

Boosters Meeting Set For Centennial Park
The Boosters Club will meet on Thursday at 8 p. m. in Pavilion No. 1 at Centennial Park.

All parents of football players and the public are invited.

Plans for the 1958 membership drive will be discussed.

Club projects this year will include payment of a whirl-pool bath and the financing of a trip to a college or professional game for the high school football players.

Pacifist Earle Reynolds Defies AEC Regulations

HONOLULU (AP) — Charges that pacifist Earle L. Reynolds defied Atomic Energy Commission regulations to a jury today, 24 hours after his trial started.

Reynolds did not call a witness in his behalf.

Attorneys for the former Antioch (Ohio) College professor rested their case soon after the prosecution had concluded testimony from four witnesses.

Defense attorney Katsugo Miho moved for a directed verdict of acquittal and rested his case after the motion was rejected by U. S. District Judge J. Frank McLaughlin.

If convicted, Reynolds faces a maximum two-year sentence and $5,000 fine. He is charged with violating AEC regulations by sailing his 50-foot ketch, the Phoenix, into U.S. nuclear testing grounds in the Pacific Ocean.

The sailing was in protest to the tests.

PLANS COMMENCEMENT

OXFORD, Ohio (AP) — Miami University plans to confer honorary degrees at its summer commencement Wednesday to Dr. Arthur S. Flemming, U.S. secretary of health, education and welfare, and Gilbert L. Stout, noted California expert on plant disease control.

DIRECTOR NAMED

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Raymond Cumberland Jr., 28, a former employee of the Steubenville, Ohio, Herald-Star, has been named director of athletic publicity for Marshall College here. He succeeds Lou Sahadi who resigned.

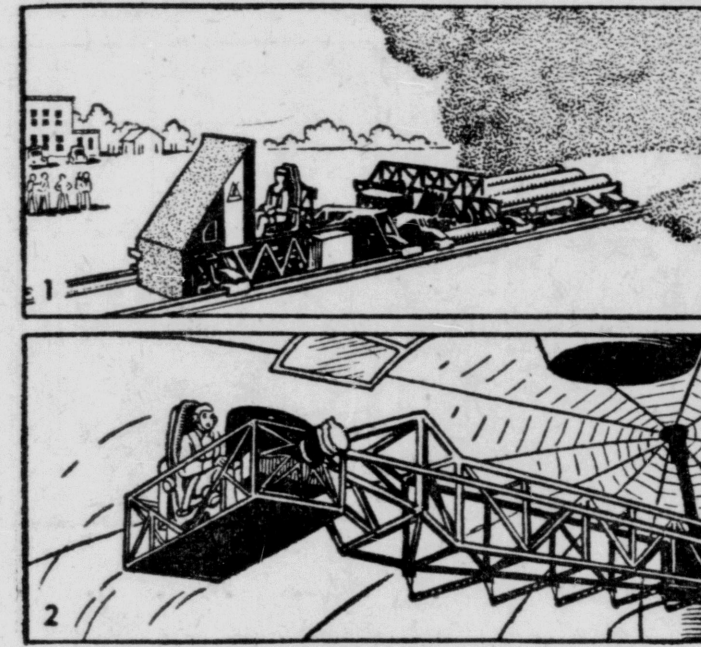

ENROLLMENT INCREASE

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Bureau of Child Accounting predicts Cleveland public schools will enroll 122,373 children Sept. 8. That's about 3,000 more than last fall, and they will have to fit into 159 buildings, the same number as in 1957.

INJURIES FATAL

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — Injuries suffered in a traffic accident last Saturday on Ohio 46 near New Lyme Twp. in Ashtabula County were fatal Monday to 10-year-old Susan Grover of Parma, a Cleveland suburb.

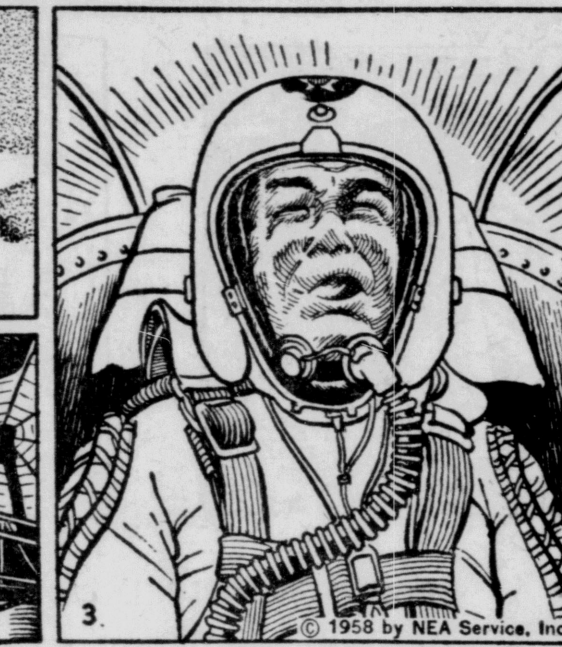

OUTWARD TO THE STARS (8)—Problems

(1) First effect a rocket-borne spaceman will feel is acceleration. Air Force Col. John Stapp, in his daring rides on a rocket sled at Holloman AFB in New Mexico, has proved that man can survive speedups and slowdowns as high as 12 G's (12 times the force of gravity) without harm. This is far in excess of what a space pilot would have to withstand.

(2) Other experiments on human beings have been carried out in giant whirling centrifuges like this one. A reclining position has been found to be best for high and prolonged acceleration.

(3) Under full rocket blast, pilot of a space vehicle will be pinned down into his specially-designed seat. G forces will distort his features and render him almost helpless. During the period of acceleration, automatic instruments will control the rocket until power is cut off and the pilot is able to take over.

(4) The opposite extreme from acceleration is the phenomenon of weightlessness, which will be experienced continually by the pilot of a satellite in orbit around the Earth.

Very short periods of weightlessness have been achieved in an airplane—by diving steeply, then abruptly pulling out and cutting power. In the resulting parabolic arc, the plane falls away from its passenger as fast as he is falling to the floor. Observers, strapped down, watch the human guinea pig's reactions.

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

It is not expected that weightlessness will be harmful to human beings, nor involve more than a temporary discomfort until the new situation is adjusted to.

(5) But once real space flight is achieved, men will have to perform in a condition of absolute weightlessness for hours and days at a time. The full effects of zero gravity will not be known until a manned satellite is actually launched.

Handling of Emotional Problems

When it comes to raising their children a great many parents appear to have forgotten what it was like when they were growing up themselves.

I readily admit that it is impossible for any parent to be all-wise all the time in the raising of children. Furthermore, mothers and fathers have a great many problems in addition to simply attending to their children's wants and needs. In fact, too much catering can perhaps be as harmful to the children as it is to the parents.

STRUCK BY AUTO
MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Susan Lanier, 5, ran into the street near her Posttown home Monday and was struck and killed by a car.

Easygoing Producer

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I don't believe in drifting," said Dick Powell, "and my only wish is that I'd been born smarter."

"Looking back on my career, it seems like I was always fighting to get out of one thing and into another. I was always restless, and I still am."

A man with a deceptively easygoing air, Powell, now a kind of strolling Ft. Knox, has had a number of careers in his life from saxophone player to top status as a movie and TV producer-director.

But even in his lean days Powell had a sturdy independence.

He recalled that 30 years ago, as a young unknown theater emcee, he turned down a chance to play opposite a promising actress. The actress was Janet Gaynor. The picture was "Seventh Heaven," and it made a star of Charles Farrell, who took the role Powell rejected.

"But I still think I was right," said Dick. "I wasn't quite ready for it."

Powell later fought and won the right to play tough guy roles after he starred in 35 musicals in 13 years, the memory of which still depresses him.

The slender tenor from Mount View, Ark., is busier than ever. He will help supervise the filming of 150 television shows and he still has four fulllength pictures to produce and direct under a contract with 20th Century-Fox. What has been his biggest problem in adapting to his new career as a producer? Powell grinned wryly at his wife, actress June Allyson.

"It's trying to sell an actor on the idea that a proposed role is just right for him. I don't know just what's so difficult for me. After all, I was sold the same way dozens and dozens of times when I was an actor," he replied.

"I'm not exactly the promoting type of producer. I hate to put pressure on people, but sometimes you have to.

"But there's no greater satisfaction than taking a story and turning it into a completed picture. It's far more satisfying than just acting."

"People think Richard's a lot tougher and more practical than he really is," said June, who knows shorthand and says she acts as his secretary when they're traveling. "Underneath, he's a softie."

They relax with their children on a 50-acre ranch that lies within the city limits of Los Angeles. Dick still likes to play his saxophone, but most of his singing now is confined to bathroom arias.

Bronx Residents Note

Something Fishy in Air

NEW YORK (AP)—A fishy situation in a Bronx neighborhood has caused its residents to wonder, with bated breath, what next?

First it was a 300-pound, nine-foot shark. Slit down the belly, jaw and teeth removed, it was found lying on the pavement in the Bronx.

The Sanitation Department hauled the shark away.

The air had begun to clear when the Bronxites sensed something further amiss.

Hanging from a nearby lamppost, 30 feet above the sidewalk, an eight-foot porpoise was found Monday night.

Once again, the Sanitation Department went to the rescue.

SLAYER SENTENCED

CINCINNATI (AP)—Frank E. Gilbert, 45, must spend 1-20 years in Ohio penitentiary for the gun-shot slaying of Richard Moore, 25, after an argument over a $100 bid. He could have drawn a life term under a second-degree murder verdict by a jury, but Judge Carson Hoy in Criminal Court Monday reduced it to first-degree manslaughter.
